

Museum Dedication Cause for Remembering

The Lakes Region Historical society will celebrate the culmination of a dream on Saturday, July 18, from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., and everyone is invited. This is the day formal dedication and opening ceremonies (at 11 a.m.) will be held at their museum, the Old Antioch Grade School, located at the corner of Main and Depot Sts. in Antioch.

The original dream of Betty Lu Williams and Roberta Knirsch to have a room in the new library dedicated to the preservation of the history and the heritage of the Lakes Region has grown to encompass a whole building.

The museum itself, built in 1892, opened with 12 students and included a two-year high school, which was closed in 1915 when (the then) Antioch Twp. High School was opened. Grade school classes continued to be held in the building until 1970, when the new upper grade school was built. At that time, the old building became a storage area.

The historical society leased the building in 1983 and immediately begun fund raising and renovations. Since that time, Walter Shepard, with the help of Chuck Grisso and many other dedicated volunteers, has labored long and hard to prepare the building for use. Now the downstairs rooms are ready and special "open times" are in the planning stages.

Betty Lu Williams and other local dignitaries will be on hand at the 11 a.m. ribbon cutting. Nadine Maleck will be demonstrating quilting; Cottie Checcin will be demonstrating spinning. There will also be a weaving demonstration and a decoy display.

For those who like to reminisce about "the one that got away" Dick Waters, Bill Brook and other area sportsmen will be manning a hunting and fishing booth where tall tales may be traded. There will be a "horse trading booth" where one will have a chance to swap an item of historical interest for a souvenir of the day. An old fashioned ice cream social will also be held.

The dedication booklet will be offered for sale and the authors of the stories included in the book will be on hand to autograph copies. The school was the social hub of the town for many years and the society hopes to see many former students and teachers back exchanging fond memories of the years they spent there.

Appropriations Top Budget By $5.5 Million

by GLORIA DAVIS

The Antioch Village Board has approved appropriations for 1987-88 in the amount of $8 million. Appropriation approval in Illinois is a legal format followed by municipalities in approving a sort of wish list, things that the village board would spend money on if funds are available.

The actual budget approved by the board for 1987-88 amounts to $2,490,687. Last year appropriation approval was in the amount of $6 million and the village expenditures amounted to $2,205,253.

According to Village Clerk Marilyn Sterbenz most of the money to run the village comes from sales tax receipts, motor fuel tax increments, industry property taxes and sales taxes, grants and other funding. Residential sales taxes account for only a fraction of the village's support with most of the money from private property taxes going to support the schools.

The village operates under 12 funds, a motor fuel tax fund (paid for by motor fuel tax increments) and the Enterprise Fund, a private business operating utilities.

This year's budget has the total expenditures in many funds about the same with the general fund up about $60,000, the total police budget up over $30,000, the road and bridge fund up $34,000, social security, etc., up $10,000.

This year's budget shows a $1,500 increase in the administrative fund; a $9,000 decrease in the public works fund; a $13,000 increase in the parks department fund; a $7,000 increase in the pool fund; a $2,500 increase in the program fund; a $1,550 decrease in the building department fund; a $60,000 increase in the total general fund.

There has been $33,000 more allocated for the total police fund for 1987-88 and the total fire department fund is down about $2,000 with the fire safety building fund down less than $1,000 and the total fire fund down $3,300.

The road and bridge fund is up by $34,400 but the TIF fund is down about $30,000. Social Security and IMRF funds are up $10,000 and revenue sharing is down by over $55,000.

For 1987-88 $220,000 is budgeted under the total motor fuel tax fund. Last year that budget was $100,000.

Last year the village budgeted $2,444,052 and spent $2,205,253. Last year the total budgeted for the Enterprise Fund was $842,900, total spent was $602,245. In the new Enterprise budget administration of the water department is budgeted at $66,000; water department, $143,800; sewer department $33,800; sewer treatment plant, $313,350; total Enterprise Fund $554,250.

Wells Faces Minimum 6 Years, No Probation

John Wells, Jr. 45, son of Antioch's former police chief, Jack Wells, will have a pre-trial hearing on charges of delivery of stolen motor vehicles and delivery and possession of prescription pills and cocaine, on Tuesday, July 28, in front of Lake County Judge John Goshgarian.

Wells was arraigned on these charges on July 2 and remains in Lake County Jail under $1 million cash bond.

He was arrested by undercover agents of the Ill. State Police, Division of Criminal Investigation, at the Chain O'Lakes State Park on Rte. 173 on June 22.

On that date, Wells allegedly delivered one kilo of cocaine to the agents for an alleged price of $37,000. According to MEGS (drug enforcement agency) the street value of the cocaine on distribution would be approximately $300,000.

In two prior undercover buys, the agents purchased two stolen vehicles and prescription drugs from Wells.

According to the state police, Wells had been under investigation and surveillance for almost a year.

The reasons given for the high cash bond imposed on Wells are: charges show a variety of criminal activity; the fact that he is single and more likely to jump bail since conviction of just the Class X felony (delivery cocaine) would bring a minimum mandatory sentence of six years without probation.

The prosecuting attorney on the case will be Assistant State's Atty. Jeff Paveltic.

Walgreens' Mall Start This Month

Ground is expected to be broken by the end of July for the two-acre strip mall, slated to be built next to Hardee's, across from Antioch High School, near the intersection of Rtes. 83 and 173.

Horizon Developers of Schaumburg is constructing the mall with a Walgreens as its anchor. The developers are presently negotiating with representatives of a sandwich shop, a dry cleaners, a sporting goods store, and a men's wear store, among others, for possible location in the mall.

The mall is planned to hold the 13,000 square foot Walgreens, plus seven other stores each approximately 1,400 square feet in area.

Members of the village board and the Chamber of Commerce have voiced approval on the present two-acre development.

Originally the land was set for the construction of a motel and fast food restaurant and the change of plans to a retail mall was not greeted with enthusiasm by the Chamber at first.

There was also controversy when the developers requested a zoning change which would have made the mall twice that size. The developers dropped that request.

Wherefore Art The Art At Chamber's Art Show?

by GLORIA DAVIS

Though a short down-pour interrupted this year's Antioch Chamber's Arts and Crafts Show on Sunday, the reappearance of the sun in the early afternoon hours had many browsers perusing the booths in Williams Park.

The Chamber had announced last year that they were going to be a bit more selective as to the content of the displays, voicing a leaning towards more art endeavors and less crafty items.

back in 1973, artists, in the format of most well-known art shows, displayed their work on the streets of Antioch on Saturday when everyone was open for business.

There was also an art auction held in the State Bank's parking lot.

The streets were so crowded one could hardly walk them the first few years, and no doubt many of these art browsers, not only purchased some of the artists' works, but they also frequented the local restaurants and brought an additional cash flow to the

Commentary

But this year there seemed to be even more craft booths, and less paintings, drawings, photographs, etc.

The Arts and Crafts Show has been more of a service show and not a big money-maker for the Chamber, with the only monies coming from the booth rentals and concessions.

Each year it seems to lose some of that specialness that it had when it started 14 years ago, with less and less to separate it from all the other craft shows that are part of most surrounding municipalities' summer events.

When the idea of an art show first took hold retail sector.

Isn't that what a Chamber of Commerce is all about, to bring business to the merchants?

Every year the arts and crafts show looks more and more like a flea market, the only thing missing is used goods, and what good does it do for the Chamber members when it is held out of the retail district, on a Sunday?

If the Chamber wants a flea market, then bring in the hawkers of used merchandise and call it a flea market, or else call a spade a spade and publicize it as a craft show with a sprinkling of art.

It's Up, Up And Away With Balloon Thieves

The Antioch Police have solved the mystery of the disappearing 35-foot balloon valued at $4,000, stolen from Williams Park during the Fourth of July festivities.

On Friday, acting on information from sources, the Antioch Police arrested Leonard Moore, 17, Antioch, who admitted the theft and led the police to a storage shed in Oakwood Knolls which contained the deflated Budwieser balloon owned by the Rinella Beverage Co., Mundelein.

On Saturday, the police arrested Gordon L. Pierce, 19, Antioch. Both men have been charged with a felony, theft over $300 and released on recognizance bonds.

Radar Detectors Fail To Warn Thieves Of Cops

On Saturday, Antioch Police Officer Mike Culat, acting on a phone report of two suspicious men lurking in Barnstable's parking lot, arrested Darrin Taft, 18, and Christopher Wilson, 19, both from Antioch.

One of those arrested was found with a baseball bat in his hands. Both were charged with allegedly stealing radar detectors from parked cars.

According to Antioch Police Lt. Tom Fisher, they also admitted to previous thefts from automobiles. Both were charged with two counts of burglary to autos (felony) and two counts of other burglaries.

They were taken to Lake County Jail and had a pre-trial hearing on Sunday when court dates were set.

Shop & Share Fundraiser To Benefit Knolls Area

The Oakwood Knolls Property Owners Assn. will hold a Shop & Share fundraising program on July 20, 21 and 22.

By shopping at Jewel on one of those days, five percent of the total purchases, excluding tax and Osco merchandise, will be donated by Jewel to the organization.

The Oakwood Knolls Property Owners

Assn. will use the money generated by the Shop & Share to improve and maintain the lake, channel and playground areas.

Anyone interested in helping the Oakwood Knolls Property Owners Assn. by shopping at Jewel on those dates will need a Shop & Share Identification Card, which can be obtained through the association.

Cops Catch Gas Syphoners Stealing From ACHS Buses

After receiving complaints that someone was syphoning gas from the buses parked at Antioch High School, the Antioch Police set a stakeout to watch the buses. One person was routed when found inside a bus during the week and two others have been arrested and charged with stealing gasoline from the buses.

Sited syphoning gas on Wednesday, July 8, was Russell Cote, 18, Antioch. Arrested later was Gregory Gugel, 18, Lindenhurst.

They are due to appear in Lake County Court on theft charges on July 28.

4 Win Awards In July 4 Parade

According to Glend Tomaschik, director of the Antioch Parks and Recreation Dept., The Best of Parade Award in the July 4 parade went to the Waukegan-News Sun's float.

The Best Theme award was won by the Antioch Lions Club, the Most Humorous award went to 'Grumpbusters,' an Antioch clown club, and the Most Beautiful award went to Cub Scout Pack 190. Each group winning received an engraved plaque.

Tomaschik said that credit for the success of Antioch's Old Fashioned Fourth goes to the merchants and organizations that worked on the event, the committee and the reigning queens.

Environmental Emphasis

It is interesting that early entrants in the 1988 County Board sweepstakes (yes, another election and another campaign is upon us) are talking about environmental concerns.

Whether they are smart politicians seizing upon a public issue that will play well for the electorate or whether they are in politics to better express their concerns about the environment is difficult to tell. Perhaps it is a combination of both. No matter. What is significant, in our opinion, is the fact that problems involving the environment will be key issues for candidates running for the Lake County Board next year.

In announcing his candidacy for another term, Dist. 6 Rep. C. Richard Anderson explicitly mentioned as reelection goals and aims preservation of the environment and strict zoning compliance with respect to wetlands. Dist. 6 takes in the southwestern part of the county where booming development is altering the countryside. Two early bird candidates in Dist. 4 covering Avon, Grant, Antioch and Lake Villa townships—Larry Leafblad and Suzi Schmidt, who are running as a team—have indicted that environmental matters will be high on their list of priorities.

Precious little concern has been expressed by officialdom about the environment as Lake County's open space is transformed into blacktop streets, strip malls and housing sites. What interest has been expressed in environmental matters has come out on the County Board and the Lake County Forest Preserve Dist., both of which are governed by the same elected officials. We haven't seen much concern expressed by village officials. So preservation of natural resources has fallen to a handful of County Board representatives. Dist. 5 Rep. Mike Graham, once scorned for his environmental views and considered a kook because of his outspoken position on open space and growth, will have company on the County Board next year. In our opinion, the situation on village councils also is changing as more and more trustees become acquainted with the relationship between wetlands preservation and flood control.

Environmental concern isn't a closet question around here anymore. It's out in the open and it's here to stay.

Ponder Phone Voting

Never let it be said that Lake County Clerk Linda Hess is afraid to face new worlds Hess allowed as how voting by phone might have future possibilities considering the rapid strides being made in communications and computerization.

Now that's something to consider! All sorts of interesting possibilities in the political process would open up with telephone voting. No lines at the polls, no jostling by overzealous campaigners, last minute get-out-the-vote efforts (and do we mean last-minute), elimination of TV exit interviews, increase in the speed of counting, opportunity to offer the verbal explanations of complicated referendum propositions. Then again there might be some drawbacks. Vote tampering, voter remorse, computer overload. And how would a phone-in vote be recorded?

We are intrigued by a phone voting project now being conducted by a downstate newspaper. The Peoria Journal Star is running phone polls to replace "man-on-the-street" interviews. Readers dial a special "900" number to automatically vote "yes" or "no," or to register a specific multiple choice. The process takes about 10 seconds, and, yes, there is a cost.

Will the electorate have enough energy and interest to pick up their phone and dial on election day? That's something for political pundits of the future to ponder.

The Lexington Imbrolio

It isn't very often that village trustees reject the blandishments of a major developer, but that's exactly what the Mundelein council did in voting 5-1 to turn thumbs down on a proposal by Lexington Homes, a major Chicago area home builder, to build 1,478 units on 470.32 acres that would swell the population by an estimated 4,000 persons.

The Lexington project was criticized widely, mostly because of the negative impact it would have on school financing. Studies showed that two elementary school districts would be deeply in debt by the time the project was completed. The board majority heard citizens speak and voted without fear of contradiction. Trustee Gerard P. Howland called Lexington proposals a bad plan for Mundelein. The village plan commission voted 4-1 against the project.

Mayor Colin L. McRae supported the Lexington project, as much out of the belief that it will be built under auspices of a neighboring municipality as conviction that the home project was good for Mundelein. The controversy has resulted in "bad blood" between McRae and Mayor Phil Ellis of Vernon Hills, where Lexington is expected to turn next. We tend to agree with a charge cynically leveled by McRae at Ellis that "the developer cares not whether the area to be developed is within one village or the other."

We also agree with McRae when he writes, "The real winners in this fiasco—the developer. The real losers—intergovernmental cooperation in the area, and the taxpayers who will subsidize whatever has been sold by an entity so hungry for growth that it would deceive its neighbor." Also involved is the village of Indian Creek. McRae feels that officials of Vernon Hills and Indian Creek have thrown neighborliness to the winds.

Lake County is replete with case histories where developers have played one municipality off another, the prime example being how Vernon Hills acquired Hawthorn Shopping Center when it was rejected by Libertyville.

If history repeats, the Lexington project will be built and, sadly, taxpayers will be picking up a huge deficit.

School Merger Official

When it was all over—approval by the County Board of School trustees for the merger of Avon and Grayslake grade schools—everything seemed so simple and orderly. It's hard to believe that the consolidation, voted July 6, was nearly 30 years in the making.

The merger, brought on by individual needs and common problems, officially takes place July 1, 1988, when Supt. David Duffy of Avon takes over responsibility for the single district. A lot of blood, sweat and tears went into getting the two districts together. Consolidation of school districts, due to separate identities and special interests coming into play, is one of the most difficult tasks in the public domain to accomplish.

A year from now, Lake County will have one less elementary school district. The new district will be stronger financially, offer more educational opportunities to its children, and be a better place to work for its faculty and staff. A year from now, the kids will be in class, not knowing what all the fuss was about.

High Tech Models Of New Skateboard Can Be Dangerous

by BILL SCHROEDER

Now that skateboarding is back in vogue, will hoola hooping be far behind?

It's amazing how the younger set is taking to skateboarding, a hot item 20 years ago. We remember visiting California then and wondering what purpose strange concrete oval structures served. Skateboard centers, of course. Only an insulated midwesterner could be so unknowing.

But don't bother to bring any ancient skateboards out of the attic or the basement. (They were really skateboards then.) Today's models are high tech with wider platforms that are easier to maneuver and rollers that go faster. Is it true that the second generation skateboards can go uphill?

You skateboard alumni, better leave the younger generation to their own devices. We know of one dad who climbed aboard one of the new-fangled aero-dynamic boards and was on his way to the emergency room before he got to the end of the block. When last we heard, he was being treated for a broken toe, dislocated finger and a sprained wrist. And the medics were still counting.

NEW CAMPUS—Another college is joining the ranks of Lake County's offerings for higher education. Roosevelt University of Chicago is getting ready to enroll students at its new campus at Stevenson High School that will open in September.

Roosevelt has been part of the education scene for a number of years with extension courses offered at various places around the county. At its new facility on Rte. 22, a wing of Stevenson, up to 200 students expected for the first semester will be served. They are expected to come from three sources: transfers from College of Lake County and McHenry County College, employed adults pursuing graduate degrees in business and education, and undergraduates seeking degrees.

Welcome, Roosevelt.

GETTING ACQUAINTED—High over some non-descript plains state town, on a red-eye flight to the west coast, two one-time neighbors got acquainted. They grew up in the same town, work for the same company, have a lot of mutual acquaintances, but have never met. That's life in the airlines.

They finally met when Karen Wiltberger, assigned as cabin attendant, checked in on the flight deck and learned the identity of the guy in the right chair. "Are you Jerry Molitor from Round Lake?" Wiltberger inquired. "That's me," replied the always-smiling second officer. "We're supposed to know each other," exclaimed Wiltberger, who has been a flight attendant for a year.

So the co-pilot and the flight attendant compared notes and started talking United Airlines shop talk, besides visiting about growing up in the Round Lake area. Molitor now resides in McHenry, and Wiltberger lives in Des Plaines.

GOING STRONG—Ray Pellettieri, a dapper 75, is at it again—building homes. A builder and developer for more than 40 years, Pellettieri is excited about his newest project, 160 homes in the $80,000 range in Round Lake Heights.

Pellettieri sets a fast pace for two companies he currently owns. He scoffs at retirement. "If President Reagan can run the country at his age, I guess I can build a few houses," Ray exclaims, his eyes twinkling.

When he got started in the building business, Ray recalled that he was selling homes in the Mundelein area for less than $10,000. He's a man who moves with the times. Luxury homes he built in Blueberry Hill and Lake Minear Estates, Libertyville, have appreciated greatly. Pellettieri never confines himself to one price bracket.

With a Panama straw hat tilted at a rakish angle, Pellettieri delights in talking about the building business. He's got an infectious spirit about home construction—and life.

DISCOVERY—When last we checked, Norway wasn't on the list of idyllic honeymoon spots, but Charles Lucas, Jr. and his bride are going to have an opportunity to find out if it is.

Lucas, 28, a geologist, and Mrs. Lucas will be spending several years in Scandinavia, where he will be on assignment for Conoco Oil Co. The oil man, a native of Grayslake, and his wife were married in June in Ponca City, Okla., where he searched for new oil fields and she taught school.

ONE MAN'S FAMILY—Uncles and aunts from two different families and a flock of cousins had an opportunity to get acquainted at an engagement party for Karen and Mike. Everyone was so busy introducing themselves that they didn't even notice a rainy afternoon that washed out an outdoor picnic. Hopefully, that'll be the only dampener as Karen and Mike head for their big date in December.

In Memoriam

IN REMEMBRANCE of our beloved son and brother and uncle who died in Vietnam July 20, 1967. Loving Memories: Your gentle face and patient smile with sadness we recall you had a kindly word for each and died beloved by all. The voice is mute and stilled the heart that loved us well and true. Ah, bitter was the trial to part from one so good as you. You are not forgotten loved one nor will you ever be. As long as life and memory last we will remember thee. We miss you now, our hearts are sore, as time goes by we miss you more, your loving smile, your gentle face, none can fill your vacant place. ## Don't Expect More Funds For Education: Bradshaw

by STEVE PETERSON

Most Lakeland area school districts will feel the affects legislator's failure to change the state aid formula in the 1988-89 fiscal year.

"Most people plan ahead at least a year. The real impact will be felt in the 1988-89 school year," Fred Bradshaw, a retired member of the Illinois state board of education said.

Bradshaw, who worked a consultant during the just past legislative session, told a group of about 20 Lake

Bradshaw said.

The administrators present represent the spectrum of schools in the Lake County area - from rich to poor, from those dependent on state aid to those whose budgets are big enough that they do not.

Bradshaw presented a computer printout which showed that, given the current status of state aid, what the school districts could expect. Districts in the 30th Senator district stand to lose a total of $605,22.47 in state funding.

Among the districts which would be influenced the most in the Lakeland area are: Woodland Dist. 50, Hawthorn Dist. 73, Aprakistic-Tripp, and Grayslake Community High School.

"We are more dependent on state aid than most. We're looking at a $70,000 reduction in expenditures," Grayslake High Supt. Dr. Griff Powell said.

"It will hit us pretty hard. There were several things that we were counting on from the state," Gurnee Grade School Dist. 56 Supt. Dave Parrish said.

Gurnee grade is reeling from a one-two punch of the Sept., 1986 flood and growth.

"We had more at stake than most," Parrish said.

Woodland Dist. 50 Supt. Dr. Marlin Meyer said the district figures to lose not only the $110,000 to $120,000 in state aid, but also $70,000 in funds for elementary education which are waiting permission to be used.

"We'll have reduced income but we still have to educate the additional kids," Meyer said.

Bradshaw said Gov. James Thompson probably won't back down on threatened cuts.

"He's not fooling on the cuts," Bradshaw said.

County school administrators that the future does not look bright for funding of education.

"It's not too optimistic," Bradshaw said as the administrators munched on eggs and pancakes at the Gurnee Holiday Inn.

Bradshaw said he thought going into the legislative session that some tax increase would pass.

"My feeling is that there was not the support for education that the educators thought there was,"

Frequent Travel Bonuses Cut Vacationers' Costs

Air travel for vacationers and business persons often combine into trip schedules. Point bonuses are offered by major airlines to fill seats through frequent travel programs that accumulate points. The client may cash these in for personal trips along the way. Even frequent use hotels are aggressively determined to fill beds with constant travelers. As inducements, hotels offer their own point systems which produce extended free stays, including transportation.

Smaller airlines, such as Southwest out of Midway Airport, are introducing their own traveler's club. Business customers using Southwest Airlines may qualify for club membership by taking 10 round trips or 20 one way flights. Membership also includes for a great variety of questions, safe flight procedures and services.

Summer is the time that air travel peaks and FAA, its policing agency, is getting a new boss, T. Allen McArtor. Outgoing administrator, Donald Engen, says consistent progress is being made in air safety, but is silent on his reason for leaving. The 1981 air controller strike, settled by Presidential firing of the strikers, has been followed by complaint and criticism from the U.S. Travel and Transportation Dept., FAA's parent. Since 1981, air traffic has risen while the number of controllers has declined. Although FAA says it was overstaffed, a new plan to hire 955 employees is being considered. But as criticism accumulates, controllers are likely to respond by using an unpopular tool. Delaying departures and keeping planes on the ground will eliminate air crashes, but not criticism of services.

Air travel for seniors is a growing source of business. The U.S. Census Bureau estimates the 65-plus population will reach 31.7 million by 1990—over 10 percent growth in five years. Seniors have the highest discretionary income of any age group. Other higher income groups, 35 to 50 for example, have little more than half the uncommitted fund source.

Airlines target on this vital market, which is good news for those ready to get up and go. Clubs, such as United Silver Wings, offer deep discounts on flight, hotel, auto rental and cruise charges.

the first free round trip flight to anywhere Southwest flies.

O'Hare Airport's $500 million United terminal opened 13 new gates with limited fanfare as United is in the throes of reformation. Making its re-entry as the world's largest single airline, United is looking once again for the more friendly skies by dropping its hotel chains and car rental empire. Marketed under the name Allegis, with a $7.3 million marketing intro budget, it retired in less than two months and will again be known as United Airlines, Inc. Allegis becomes a major United flight package that flipped on reverse thrust engines and never got off the ground.

Fortunately, the Federal Aviation Ad-is $21 which includes school bus transportation (FAA) cannot be blamed for sportation, lunch and all admission fees. that one, although many see it responsible Reservations are due by July 24.

Seniors May Enjoy Trips

Warren Twp. Senior Citizens Center is offering bus trips on July 29 and 30.

Check Land Trust For Holding Title

A land trust is a convenient, inexpensive method to hold a title to Illinois real estate. It is an arrangement by which the record title to the real estate is held by the trustee, but at the same time all the rights and conveniences of ownership are exercised by the beneficial owner (beneficiary) whose interest is not disclosed to the public.

Anyone capable of entering into a contract may establish a land trust. It may be established by an individual, a group of persons such as a partnership, a corporation, an association or other business entity.

To create a land trust you and the trustee execute a trust agreement which will direct the trustee to hold title to your real estate. Under the agreement, you the beneficiary of the trust have the authority (called the Power of Direction) to manage, control and direct the trustee in all future transactions concerning your real estate.

Under a land trust agreement, the beneficiary retains complete control of the real estate. The beneficiary may terminate the trust whenever he desires or may add additional property to the land trust whenever he so wishes. When the title to real estate is held in a land trust, the interest of the beneficiary, under the terms of the trust agreement, is personal property. Since the beneficiary's interest is personal property, the following benefits can be enjoyed.

1. Privacy of Ownership—Under a land trust, the real identity of the owner is never disclosed to the public. This feature can be important for many reasons. For example, a number of persons may be purchasing several parcels of real estate for some special purpose, and this result can be best accomplished if the objective is not made public; or co-owners may desire that the interest of each member be kept confidential, or an individual owner may not want to be burdened by inquiries.

Of course, certain governmental agencies or others, under valid and authorized legal process, can inquire of the beneficial ownership if for a legitimate purpose. Land trust beneficiaries are always advised of any inquiries regarding their property.

2. Ease of Conveyance—A land trust affords a convenient means of mortgaging and selling a trust property without having to obtain deeds from all the beneficiaries and their spouses. It dispenses with the necessity of obtaining the release and waiver of homestead from the husbands or wives of the parties interest in the land trust real estate. Also, since the beneficial interest is considered to have the legal characteristics of personal property, it can be pledged for a loan.

When a loan is paid in full the land trust does not automatically terminate. The land trust can only be closed by written direction of the beneficiaries provided there are no liens against said trust. When real estate is deeded back to the parties it remains their responsibility to have the deed recorded with the Recorder of Deeds in the county in which the property is located.

3. Disposing of Part Interest—A land trust simplifies the practical problem of disposing of a part interest in a property, since the beneficial interest under a land trust can be transferred by assignment. This aspect of a land trust becomes especially important when real estate is held by a number of persons or if the owners have disproportionate or fractional shares of the property.

4. Protection For Owner—The land trust offers particular benefits in those cases where the real estate is held by two or more persons. When the property is held in a land trust, a judgement against one of the beneficiaries will not in itself constitute a lien upon the real estate; neither will the ordinary legal proceedings against any of the beneficiaries becloud the title.

Although the real estate itself will not be encumbered by a judgement lien, the interest of the beneficiary in the land trust can be subject to the claims of creditors. If the title to the real estate is in the name of a trustee, the creditors must take additional steps to assert claims against the property.

5. Succession and Ownership—Under the land trust agreement, the party creating the trust, can, if he so desires, retain sole control over the property during his lifetime with the desired succession of ownership becoming effective upon his death without, under certain conditions, the expense of going through probate proceedings.

This can be especially helpful to out-of-state owners of Illinois real estate, who will not need to institute separate probate proceedings here, but can have the land trust property administered in their home states.

For more information or to make an appointment to discuss land trusts, call either David B. DeSalvo or Sandra L. Shinsky, Trust Officers, for American National Bank and Trust Company of Waukegan at (312) 623-9000.

Trucks Have To Stop Playing Lady Godiva

by GLORIA DAVIS

Well, It's summertime and the livin' ain't easy, at least for anyone who is unfortunate enough to have to travel Lake, Kenosha or Cook County's highways.

As usual, our muscles just relax from being locked in terror from gripping the steering wheel while skidding on winter's icy roads, and now we have to contend with barricades, detours and one-lane highways.

OK, OK, I can deal with this! Driving next to a temporary cement wall with a semi edging me towards it at 65 mph might not be everyone's idea of fun, but a little of life on the edge keeps the old blood flowing.

What I have a hard time dealing with, in fact I refuse to deal with any longer, is the

and was not tossed up from the street by the wheels, which of course is an act of God?"

Have you ever tried to either stop or simply identify a gravel truck? I vainly tried to stop one once and finally gave up my weaving and bobbing before I caused a crash.

Identify! You got to be kidding! I've never been able to find a rear license plate, much less a readable one, on one of these offending vehicles.

There are many of we poor suckers on the road that work for two weeks out of the month to keep a comparative decent set of wheels beneath us.

Despite the fact that the trucks have as much right on the roads as we little guys,

When I Think About It

damage done by the gravel that flies from all those oversized Tonka Toys that are scurrying to one construction site or another.

I have been told that it is a law that said laden trucks have a cover over their cargo to prevent just the thing I'm loudly complaining about.

There may be some place, somewhere, that that law is being enforced, but it certainly isn't in western Kenosha County or anywhere in northern Illinois.

Proof of that cement pudding can be found in the fact that 99 percent of said trucks are traveling nude. If the owners of these gravel companies were seriously worried about being fined, I'm sure this would not be the case.

Since these trucks are traveling every road one cannot escape them unless one takes to the public transportation that for all intents and purposes is non-existent in our area.

I have stayed so far behind them, trying to escape a barrage of gravel, that the horns start blasting and a traffic jam starts forming, yet I still hear those ping-pings that I know are pitting my poor car.

Try complaining to a gravel company. They look at you like you just escaped from an institution and ask "what proof have you that said gravel came off of one of our trucks they do not have the right to deface the property I work so hard to keep in good shape.

Each one of those pings turns into a dented rust spot, not to mention the two broken windshields said gravel monsters are responsible for in my own case.

I know that time is money in most businesses, but that extra half-hour that would be spent in covering the loose sand and gravel would be time well spent, if only in displaying good will towards fellow drivers.

Another thing, in the summer I drive a convertible (which is also one of my rights if I so choose.)

More than once, a spray of sand and gravel has impaired my vision by flying under my sunglasses into my eyes. Is this dangerous or what?

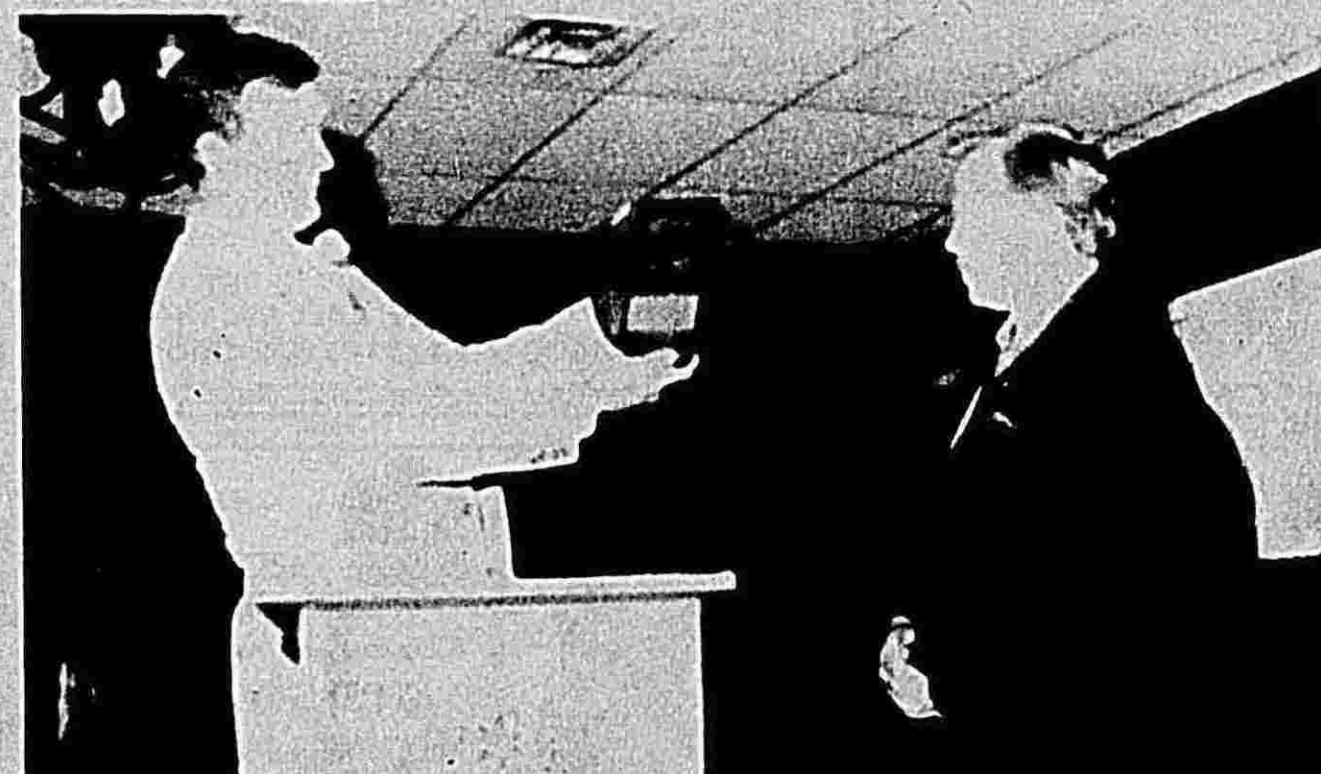

Maybe the cover wouldn't eliminate the problem entirely, but it would do some good. At least it might help convince people that the gravel companies do give some thought to us folks, some of whom could be their next big customers.

Let's see area law enforcement agencies be on the lookout for such offenders and, to you guys driving those trucks, let me make it perfectly clear, under these circumstances, a cover-up is a good idea!

Loon Lake Assn. Sets Pig Roast

The Loon Lake Sportsman's Association invites everyone to enjoy an old-fashioned pig roast and auction July 18 on the scenic shores of West Loon Lake.

The pig roast will start at 2 p.m. at Sterbenz's Little Acres in Antioch, Rte. 83 and Grasslake Rd.

There will be a $5 donation per person and children under 10 will be admitted free.

On the menu will be such foods as hot dogs, brats, corn-on-the-cob, cotton candy, ice cream, watermelon, popcorn, beer, wine and pop.

The Fascinators and The Dancing Machine will provide music and local merchants will display boats, trucks, hunting, fishing and water sports equipment.

Throughout the day, there will be games and prizes for all ages such as the ever popular dunk tank and door prizes every hour. Sparkles the clown will entertain the children.

The auction will offer a wide assortment of gifts such as pictures and small appliances, as well as boating, fishing, hunting and camping equipment.

All proceeds will go towards the conservation of the Loon Lakes area.

Will Attend Reception

U.S. Senator Alan J. Dixon (D-Ill.) will be in Lake County on July 24 for a fundraising reception to honor the re-election of Lake County Clerk Linda Hess.

The fundraiser will be held at the home of Waukegan Twp. Supervisor Milt Staben on Friday, July 24, from 6 to 8:30 p.m.

Dixon, who served as Hess' honorary campaign chairman, was also re-elected to his second term in the Senate last year.

Tickets for the event are $50 per person and can be obtained by calling Bob Furtkamp at (312) 872-8167 or (312) 680-8019.

Along the way with ANNIE MAE

Antioch is really into its summer events with the Chamber's RV Show and Art Fair and the Fourth of July Celebration just over and the Lion's Club Farmers Barbeque coming up on Sunday, Aug. 2 at Williams Park.

Congrats to all the winners who received best display awards at the RV Show. The Lyons and Ryan Ford booth was judged the best auto display. The best boat display award went to the Hidden Cove Marina and the best RV display was given to Antioch Tire, Inc.

Exception to the rule that things come down much faster than they go up can be seen in the amount of time its taking the Jewel Co. to finish that addition to the parking lot on Rtes. 59 and 173 in front of Jewel-Osco?

Kentucky Fried, etc., went down and Hardee's entire building went up in less time. For a while there I thought that there might be another restaurant going up there like one sees fronting many other Jewel-Osco endeavors in other parts of northern Illinois, but our erstwhile Village Clerk Marilyn Sterbenz tells me the only thing the village has been informed of going in at that spot is the parking lot extension.

Heard an unconfirmed report that should be filed under "What's This World Coming To," if the incident really occurred. I heard that a certain bar just outside of Antioch had a "Bon Voyage" party, complete with contribution plates, for two convicted drug dealers. Good luck guys, have a nice trip!

Another bit of good news has the Antioch Lions' golf outing, chaired by our postmaster, Stan Luta, a big success with a record turnout of 141 golfers. Trouble is everyone had such a good time, no one remembers who won any of the 180 prizes.

Rumor has it that a lakeshore hospital might be looking towards building a new hospital in or near Antioch.

Congrats to Antioch's swim team who won their own invitational on Sunday.

Antioch Welcomes Cool Weather After Sizzler

by CAROLYN HAMMOND
(312) 395-6081

Whoever would think that we would be looking forward to cool weather and rain in July? But, after seven straight days of unbearable heat and mugginess, it is a welcome change. The quick storm that roared through our town on Sunday and left as fast as it came hardly counted for anything except to drench the Arts and Crafts Fair before it moved on. Later, even the ground showed no effect of it.

Roast at Sterbenz's Little Acres, Loon Lake on Saturday, July 18 from 2 p.m. on. There will be music, games, and entertainment all day.

Girls' softball fans—here's the final results of championship play. In the Junior Girls' Fast-pitch softball league: Division A champion—State Bank, coached by Jim Glenn, met the Division B champion—Flo's Hair Care, coached by John Cox, in an exciting three game playoff.

Hair Care team, 1987 Antioch Junior Girls' Softball champs!

In Girls' Senior League Softball, McDonalds ended the season tied for first place with Fox Lake Dairy Queen. Losing the extra game that ensued to break the tie, the girls and their coach Fred Skvarce ended their season with an 8-5 record.

Antioch Twp. Library continues to provide fun things for the children of Antioch and surrounding areas to do. Events coming up include: July 20, 2 p.m., Magic show for K-8th graders; July 21, Preschool Magic Show and face painting, and on July 22, makeup demonstration. For more information, call the library at (312) 395-0874.

The final session of swimming lessons at the Antioch Aqua Center will begin Monday, July 20 and meet daily for two weeks. Parents, if your children don't know how to swim, consider this excellent program. You must register them in person by the morning of the first class. For more information call (312) 395-0339.

Notes & News

A building in our town which does show the effect of loving concern is the old beloved Antioch Grade School on Main St., now being refurbished as the Lake Region Historical Society. Come on out on Saturday, July 18 and attend their ice cream social; see what marvelous restoration work has been done.

Ice cream isn't your bag? How about roast pig? The Loon Lake Sportsman's Assn. will hold it's third annual Auction and Pig State Bank won the first game by the score of 6-5 while Flo's returned to win the second game by 9-8 thus setting the scene for a final showdown.

Giving a lesson in good sportsmanship, the final game was played in a pleasant atmosphere of friendly competition with good fan support for both sides. It was a good defensive battle by both teams with the final score Flo's-8 and State Bank-5. Congratulations to Flo's

Williams Park Cesspools Get Diluting Drainage

Note: This is the 12th in a series on building and zoning violations in the county. by LARRY WITTNEBERT

Williams Park steps into the spotlight for a second time in this series as a longtime resident and a member of the subdivision's homeowners' association contends that slow improvements are underway. "We're getting a lot of new people and they're fixing up their houses," said Herb Tuegel, a some 30-year resident of the Wauconda Twp. subdivision off Rte. 176. "It's slow, but sure and it's getting better," he said.

Williams Park has about 240 homes, with some located in a low-lying area, he said.

The homeowners' association contracts for weekly garbage pickup and he said that the only problem with the service is that fees group.

Association members pay annual fees of $60 for the retired and $100 for the non-retired and the garbage pickup is covered by that charge.

Tuegel indicated that if overall fee payment was more diligent, the association could do more such as blacktop one or two streets a year.

But he said that it's up to the property owners to keep their homesites clean.

Regarding septic tanks, he said that some occupied homes in the subdivision have none.

He said that the effluent runs through the subdivision and is then pumped into Slocum Lake.

The association plans to add two pumps to the housing to make removal more efficient.

Despite the sewage, Tuegel said that he's heard of no health problems. He believes that the Williams Park is a natural drainage area and the incoming water dilutes the sewage so much that it causes no problem.

In a previous article, John Taylor contended that sewage was flowing through open ditches causing a health hazard.

Robert Watkins, of the Lake County Health Dept., said that he's checked the liquid in the ditches and found it harmless.

Watkins, assistant district supervisor of the Wauconda

Office, said that the health department would recommend a sanitary sewer system for Williams Park as the ideal method of disposal.

Responding to the claim of homes without septic systems, he said that he could act only on complaint. He said too that if the homeowner denied him entrance, he could check the premises inside only after a search warrant was secured.

Regarding junk cars, Tuegel said that Williams Park residents must report them to either the president or vice-president of the association.

Those two officials will then notify the appropriate authorities, he said.

Tuegel said that fire service is excellent as provided by the Island Lake and Wauconda Fire Depts. "They get here in a hurry," he said.

Regarding possible incorporation, Tuegel said that attorneys have informed Williams Park it cannot incorporate. He said he doesn't know the reason or reasons why.

He said too that neither Island Lake or Wauconda wants to annex the subdivision.

Chain O'Lakes Guide Demand Overwhelms

"Incredible!"

That's how William M. Schroeder, general sales manager of Lakeland Newspapers describes the success of the Chain O'Lakes Recreation Guide. It is published monthly throughout the boating season.

"We knew it was a good idea from the start," Schroeder said, "but you never know how well such a product will be accepted until it is out on the street."

Lake County State's Atty. Fred Foreman asked for 100 copies to be distributed to visiting dignitaries at the annual State's Attorneys' Conference.

The Fox Lake Police Dept. got an extra batch to distribute to visitors in the Chain O'Lakes. An area realtor has gotten copies to distribute to prospective home buyers.

"We have even had people call from all over, asking if they could subscribe to the Recreation Guide," Schroeder said. "We can't keep enough of them in merchants hands."

"It is clear that the area needed a concise, handy guide with information that visitors and locals, for that matter, can use. We're delighted to have been able to put together a guide which fulfills that need.

"We're also pleased that our advertisers have gotten such a good response from the guide," he concluded.

The next edition of the Chain O'Lakes Recreation Guide will be available on Aug. 6.

Bill For New Medicare Expansion Progresses

A health insurance plan to expand benefits for Medicare patients facing serious illnesses jumped to the fast track in the House, Congressman Les Aspin (D-Wis.) announced.

"Two House committees have given their okay to a bill I'm supporting that would protect folks on Medicare from catastrophic medical costs," Aspin said. "This is good news for millions of elderly and disabled Americans."

The House Ways and Means and Energy and Commerce Committees have approved a new program that would expand coverage under Medicare to include unlimited hospital stays, outpatient prescription drugs, and short-term nursing home and home care.

The current Medicare program provides 28 million elderly and three million disabled recipients with limited coverage for hospital stays and nursing home care.

"The House health plan would be a big improvement over the current program and over the administration proposal because it would cover the costs of a wider range of medical services," Aspin said. "On the other hand, the plan won't cure all the health problems seniors have, especially chronic, long-term illnesses."

In February, the administration introduced a catastrophic health insurance plan to provide unlimited coverage for hospital stays. The plan, however, did not include a prescription drug benefit or expanded coverage for nursing home and home healthcare.

Under the House catastrophic health bill, H.R. 2470, Medicare would cover the costs of unlimited hospital stays after the recipient pays a single deductible estimated at $541 for 1988. Under the current program, Medicare covers a portion of up to 150 days per year and recipients can pay more than one annual deductible.

Both the Ways and Means and Energy and Commerce Committees have separately approved plans to expand Medicare to cover the costs of outpatient prescription drugs starting in 1990.

The committee plans call for different deductibles before the coverage would apply. The committees are expected to work out a compromise this week.

"The prescription drug benefit would add a significant new feature to the Medicare program," Aspin said. "It's important to take steps to protect seniors and the disabled from the high cost of drugs they need."

The House bill also would expand coverage for stays in a nursing home from 100 to 150 days and would allow home health care visits of up to 35 continuous days.

In addition, the new House plan would place a $1000 limit on the amount recipients pay for Part B medical services such as physicians fees. The current program has no cap on out-of-pocket expenses.

In order to pay for the new Medicare benefits, monthly premiums would rise by $1 in 1990 and by $1.50 in 1991. About 40 percent of all beneficiaries would also pay a supplemental premium of up to $580 to help pay for the new benefits.

The bill should come to the House floor for a vote this week. Amendments to provide coverage for additional services under Medicare are expected.

The Senate is completing work on a similar bill. Once the House and Senate pass their own versions of the bill, they must agree on a compromise measure to send to the President for his signature.

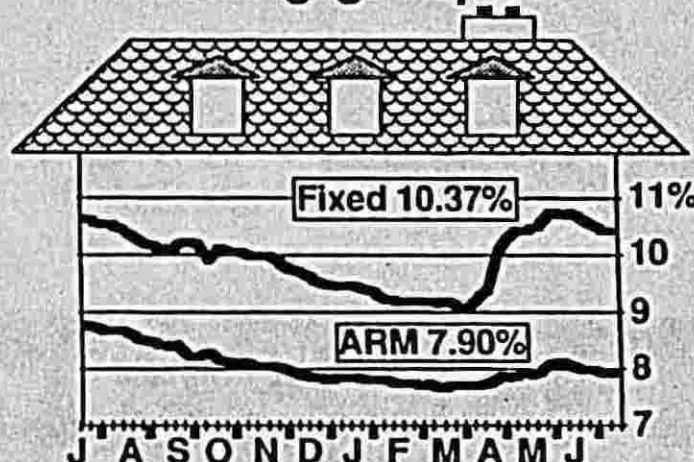

"I'll be working to see that elderly and disabled Americans get the protection they need from skyrocketing medical costs," Aspin concluded.

'Golf Doctor' Helps Golfers Improve Game

Golf, as any duffer knows, can be a humbling experience.

But some golfers may be starting out adding to their handicap without even realizing it.

"Most people don't know that being fitted properly for a club can make a big difference," Kurt Fetzner, pro shop manager at the Golf Doctor, said.

The Golf Doctor offers a custom fitting golf clubs as well as several other items at the Mundelein store.

"Having the properly fit club is the same as buying a pair of shoes," Fetzner said.

The Golf Doctor has only been in Mundelein for a little over two weeks now, but Fetzner is excited about his firm's business.

"We offer a little bit of everything," he said.

In addition to fitting clubs, lessons, accessories (bags, golf balls, golf shirts, video tape lessons) are also offered.

Lessons include 30 minutes at $8.

"I like to work with a player that is a beginner or is starting to enjoy the game more," Fetzner said.

In the middle of the store stands a computerized Golftek. A couple of swings can tell a golfer a variety of things about his or her game.

"It's a good visual aide," Fetzner said.

The machine can measure hand speed, distance, whether or not the shaft is open or closed.

"Most people have a tendency to slice the ball," Fetzner said.

Starting to play golf can be an expensive proposition.

"A lot of times people want to play golf but don't want to spend a lot of money. We can put them into four irons and two woods and custom fit the clubs for $25 for irons and $45 for a wood," Fetzner said.

Players can later buy more custom fitted clubs off the charts which Fetzner keeps for all customers.

Although new in Mundelein, the Golf Doctor is established in Crystal Lake and Dundee. Fetzner formerly worked at the Crystal Lake store part-time.

Fetzner had a chance to play against players now on the PGA tour while in high school at Crystal Lake. He battled Barrington High's Gary Hallberg and played against David Orgin of Waukegan.

Waukegan Hosts Next Tourney

Waukegan Park Dist. will be the host of the next Lakeland Newspapers-Coca Cola-Penn tennis tournament.

Waukegan will host its meet July 16-19.

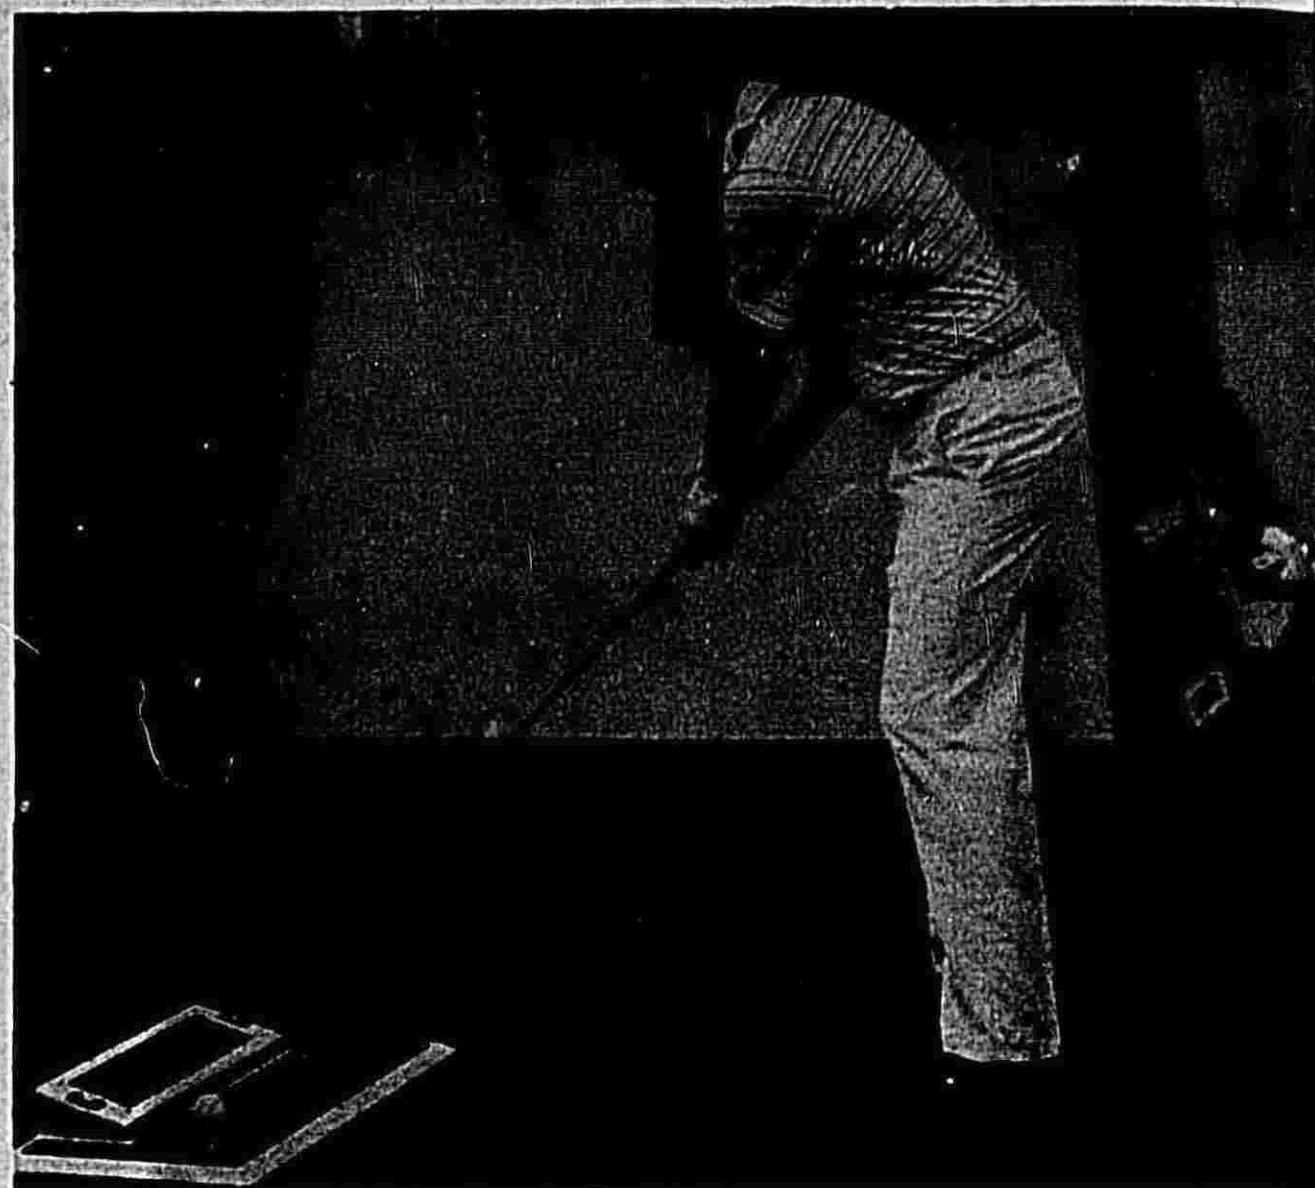

Mother Nature once again played havoc with the tournament schedule last week as the championship match at Zion was rained out. Jeff Oleksinski and Dave Buska advanced to the title round.

The players earning two points before the title round were Jerry Spillman, Mark Nordby and Chuck Werz.

Players earning one point at Zion were: Bob Brothman, Melvin Smith, Joe Allian, Orland Oree, Rich Walker, Joe Sanchez, George Povich and Jeff Hendricks.

To date, champions are: Robert Moran and Krista Schreck for Grayslake-Round Lake; Buska for Gurnee and Nordby for Mundelein.

Those players automatically advance to the championship round to be played at Waukegan Aug. 14-16.

Golf Swing By Computer

Kurt Fetzner, pro shop manager at "The Golf Doctor" in Mundelein, uses Golftek machine to improve his swing. Golftek allows golfers chance to measure club hand speed, position of club and distance.

Gurnee, Waukegan Face Showdown

It's showdown time for the Gurnee Indians.

The Shoreline League team will host first-place Zion Dill Brothers at the Gurnee American Legion field July 19 in a 1 p.m. doubleheader.

The Indians will be coming off a doubleheader sweep of the Waukegan Golden Eagles that improved their record to 9-6-2.

Gurnee won the first contest 5-4 and won the second 8-3.

The first game had to be delayed for about an hour because a rainstorm soaked the field.

Chris Stranowicz picked up the win in the first game for Gurnee. He got relief help from Vince Jawrecki in the seventh inning.

Gurnee led 5-1 but Waukegan rallied for three seventh-inning runs to make it 5-4. But after surrendering a walk, Jawrecki got the next batter for the final out.

Leading the way offensively for Gurnee was Todd Parola who had a double and a run-batted-in;

Mark Ring was two-for-two; Jerry Brown had a double and rbi; Chris Stranowicz had a double and rbi and Mike Foote contributed two rbis.

Grayslake Pounds Antioch

Grayslake's Colt League team finished its season with a bang July 7, zapping Antioch 16-2.

The game was called in the fifth inning by the umpire because of Antioch's unsportsmanlike conduct. The game was an official game, though, and Grayslake finished the season with an 8-10 record.

"The second half of the season was pretty good," Grayslake manager Ron Woll said.

Grayslake overcame problems with vacations and work schedules to chalk up six wins in its last seven games.

Mundelein Legion Opens Playoffs

As far as Mundelein's Legion baseball team is concerned, the old cliché "the future is now" applies to the July 17 game at Lake Forest.

"After the first game of the season, we've seen improvement and we've been pointing everything to Friday's game," Mundelein manager Keith Mione said.

For the Lake Forest contest at Lake Forest High School will mark the start of the Legion double elimination playoffs. Mundelein lost to Lake Forest 9-7 early in the year.

Mundelein, with one final regular season game remaining, comes into this week's play with a 3-7 league record, 7-12 overall. After beating up on Zion 14-1, Mundelein lost heartbreakers in extra innings to Barrington and Round Lake. Barrington edged Mundelein 6-5 in nine innings while Round Lake topped Mundelein 10-8 in eight.

In the win over Zion, starting pitcher Chris Diener picked up the victory. Diener went the distance, allowing just three hits while striking out seven and issuing three walks.

Travel Light, Make Trip More Enjoyable

by JIM WARNKEN

President, North Star Travel

How many times have you lugged around two suitcases and a garment bag for a weekend trip? I know I used to! Now I can pack all I need for a full week in one carry-on. Not only do I have less to carry, but am sure my luggage will arrive with me if I do not need to check it.

Some tips I have picked up over the years:

1. Coordinate wardrobe around one color scheme. This allows you to mix and match pants, shirts, coats, etc. without the need for a completely different outfit each day. You can also get by with one pair of shoes.

2. Roll garments that wrinkle easily around those less fragile (i.e., shirts around sweaters). Rolling clothes around plastic bags also helps to prevent wrinkles. Hang garments in a bathroom with a hot shower to remove any wrinkles.

3. Pack heavier items in the bottom of your carry-on. This also keeps clothes neater.

4. If you are not sure you will need it, don't bring it. It is amazing what we can do without if we don't have it.

5. Consider renting sports equipment at your destination. Unless you cannot golf without your own clubs or make it without your own mask and fins, you'll find it much more convenient to rent them from the hotel or pro shop. You'll also have that needed excuse for a bad golf game!

6. Above all, plan your wardrobe. Lay each day's selection on the bed. Remember the mix and match theory of dressing. Take only what you are sure you'll need.

With some thought, and proper packing techniques, you really can travel light.

Mohawks Keep Promise, Win District Title

by STEVE PETERSON
Sports Editor

There is one thing for sure that one can say about the Grayslake Mohawks.

This is one team that keeps its promises.

But one week after an emotional loss to Vernon Hills Gold, the Grayslake team had the last laugh - winning 5-2 and capturing a district championship trophy in just its second year of existence.

"I'm very proud of the kids," a beaming Grayslake manager Tom Hunt said.

"I've never seen them cry but after the loss to Vernon Hills Gold (7-6), it was the first time they wanted something more than anything else in the world and had it taken away from them. I talked with them afterwards and I said how I could understand how they felt. I said that they are laughing now, but you have the opportunity to take something away from them that means dearly to them. The kids got a hold of themselves and said, 'coach, we promise we will never lose to that team again,'" Hunt said.

And once the championship game was over the Mohawks - who had a 1-2 record against Vernon Hills Gold going into the game - were the ones throwing hats in the air and celebrating like they had won the World Series. Hunt even had a Bill Parcells-like experience as the Mohawk players dumped a jug of water on the unsuspecting coach.

With the Vernon Hills district championship now on the mantle, the Mohawks, 28-12 on the year, advance to regional play at Rockford July 22.

"We basically played a perfect game," Hunt said of the title contest.

Alex Ortigosa picked up the win for the Mohawks and Steve Taylor came in and induced a Gold player to hit into a groundout for the game's final out.

"Before the game I had explained to the kids that we had played them three times and had 30 hits and batted .300 against them and they only had 16 hits and batted .200 against us. The key is to take the walks away. There's nothing to be afraid of," Hunt said.

Vernon Hills Gold got the quick jump on Grayslake, scoring a run in the first inning. Grayslake answered in its half of the inning with two runs and it stayed that way until Gold took a 3-2 lead in the fifth.

"The kids put it together," Hunt said.

Grayslake got some breathing room in the sixth inning.

Scott Schupp gave the Mohawks a clutch homer in that, giving the team its 5-2 lead.

It took a come-from behind effort for the Mohawks to advance to the title round.

Trailing 3-1 against the Gold squad, things may have looked bleak for Grayslake.

Consecutive singles by David Carrillo, Ortigosa and Steve Taylor loaded the bases.

Clint Rodriguez then cleared them all with a three-run triple for a 4-3 Grayslake lead.

The runs kept coming when Scott Schupp added a single to score Rodriguez to make it 5-3. Aaron Strain then belted a two-run homer for a 7-3 lead. Another run scored later on a wild pitch and Scott Schupp singled for a 9-3 Grayslake lead.

Vernon Hills Gold threatened in the seventh, scoring three runs.

Grayslake, which had stayed undefeated in its division for the second straight year, started tournament play with a 16-10 pounding of Vernon Hills Blue. Schupp was the winning pitcher.

Carrillo had two singles and Rodriguez had three-for-three with a homer and two singles.

"Scott pitched four innings of good ball," Hunt said.

Strain accounted for seven of the team's 12 runs-batted in for the contest. He had two homers.

Rusty Welch had two singles, Carrillo two hits and Steve Taylor a single and triple.

Grayslake earned a 10-9 NSL record with a 12-3 win over Schaumburg. Joe Meyer was the winning pitcher and Steve Taylor came on in relief.

Rosberg, Walsh Take Over CHS, Wauconda Basketball

There will be new head coaches for Carmel and Wauconda basketball players to get to know this winter.

Scott Rosberg was chosen to succeed Frank Belmont at Carmel while Charles Walsh will be calling the strategies for Wauconda.

Rosberg served as an assistant to Belmont for the past year and earlier was freshman and sophomore coach at the Mundelein school.

"I think Scott is a very organized person both in the classroom and setting up the program," Carmel athletic director Bud Grover said.

Three CHS assistants were interviewed after Belmont resigned last month to accept the head coaches' position at Waukegan West.

Grover said one of Rosberg's strengths will be his knowledge of the Carmel system, since he has worked with Belmont for five years.

"I'm glad to have that settled. Now he can have some time to get things prepared," Grover said.

"People who get into coaching generally would like to be a head coach at some level," Rosberg said.

Rosberg, from listening to Belmont in the huddle and at practices knows a good basketball system when he sees it.

"It would be foolish to tamper with something that has been established as something good," Rosberg said.

Among the players who figure to play prominent roles in the Carmel scheme of things next year are: Scott Stahoviak, Kevin Talls, Derek Shaw and Kevin Knight.

Rosberg went 18-6 in his two seasons as freshman coach and was 14-10 in his only year as sophomore coach.

A few miles west on Rte. 176, Wauconda High's Walsh will get no arguments about one of his first impressions of Bulldog basketball.

"It will be a great challenge," Walsh said.

Walsh is the former sophomore coach at Barrington High School. Previously, he worked at Buffalo Grove High School as sophomore coach and coached at St. Anne's Junior High in Barrington. This will be his first position as head coach.

"I was just interested in Wauconda and I know it will be a good opportunity to start in head coaching," Walsh said.

In addition to his stints at the underclass levels, Walsh coached Amateur Athletic Union teams in 1983 and 1984. Star players on those clubs include Tony Freeman, now at Indiana and Marcus Liberty, who will attend Illinois next fall.

Walsh, who worked under the direction of Tom Mooney at Barrington, described himself as "very defensive oriented. To be successful, you have to be aggressive and play sound defense," Walsh said.

Walsh is taking over a Bulldog program which won two games the last two years. Former Wauconda athlete Chuck Neary registered 10 wins his first season and nine his second before the program hit on rough times.

Walsh said the Bulldogs will have a corp of about "four or five" players with experience coming back next year.

One of the keys to developing a successful program, according to Walsh, is having a good junior high program.

"I was hired a little late for this year but next year I'd like to start running a program for junior high kids from sixth grade on. You've got to have a community program," Walsh said.

One week last month in our Cardiac Rehabilitation Center
we taught
6 heart attack patients about the dangers of cholesterol, monitored 3 bypass patients
riding exercise bikes
...and put one former mailman back on the right route.

We help people in all walks of life.

Nothing is ever the same after a heart attack. But while most people fear the worst, with the right kind of exercise program . . . and the right kind of lifestyle adjustments . . . many patients return to their jobs and their families even healthier than before.

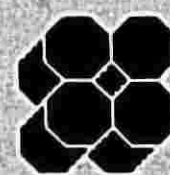

The Cardiac Rehabilitation staff at Northern Illinois Medical Center is specially trained to help these people take the first steps toward resuming full and active lives. We understand not only the medical and physical aspects of rehabilitative care, but also the emotional component so vital to a patient's complete recovery.

Like helping a man who marched through rain, snow, sleet and hail every day for forty years realize the importance of one 10-minute jaunt on the treadmill.

Serendipity To Perform At Hawthorn

On Thursday, July 23 at 9:15 p.m. in the northwest parking lot, the Serendipity Singers, a six member group which performs folk songs, country, pop, show tunes, and contemporary music from the 40's to the 80's, will leave its listeners light on their toes and full of energy—just like the group itself.

The Serendipity Singers are well known around the world for their up-beat style of close harmonies in country, folk, and pop music that keeps the audience toe tappin' and hand clappin' from beginning to end, and they receive standing ovations everywhere they go.

They travel approximately 150,000 miles a year all over the world, and have recently returned from Austria, Germany and Italy, where they filmed their next television series of "The Serendipity Singers Show", which is aired across the U.S. and Europe every week.

Wauconda is the home town of John Ross, director of the Serendipity Singers. He writes many of the songs for the tv series, including one for their next Christmas special, "Christmas in Vienna".

The Serendipity Singers are the Singing Ambassadors for Best Western Hotels and are seen frequently on their tv commercials. Ross wrote the words and music for their latest commercial.

Ross Brings Serendipity To Mall

John Ross, Wauconda native, center with banjo, is director of internationally known Serendipity Singers who will be appearing at Hawthorn Center on Thursday, July 23, at 9:15 p.m., as part of 'Music Under the Stars' program presented by mall in parking lot. Glenn Miller Orchestra is set to appear on Thursday, July 16.

Theme Song 'No Biz Like Show Biz'

by GLORIA DAVIS

Mickey and Gerry Mandel are familiar names in Lake County's community theater circuit having been connected in some way or other with the Avon Players in Grayslake, PM&L Theater in Antioch, Andres' Dinner Theater in Richmond, theatrics in Hawthorn Woods and presently with MEM Productions, the repertoire company working on the stage of the Grand Hotel in Wauconda.

Mickey and Gerry have turned a high school romance into a 31-year marriage that has produced three sons, one successful 18-year-old business and many, many theatrical endeavors.

The Mandels are living proof that one can work with a spouse, play with a mate and still remain happily married.

It is obvious that the Mandels have theatrics in their blood since even the business they own and operate, Schaumburg Limousine, has a touch of the dramatic about it.

"First we realized Gerry's dream and started the limo business," says Mickey, adding, "Now we're working on mine," referring to MEM Productions (Mickey Eckmann Mandel).

Mickey got greasepaint in her blood at an early age when her stage mother started shoving her in front of audiences as soon she could sing, "I'm A Little Teapot," ending with the proper courtesy of course.

As a young girl, she attended the Goodman Theater in Chicago and earned extra money on the organization circuit with her own one woman stand-up comedy act.

"Those were the days in WW2 when the USO furnished aspiring entertainers with a great proving ground," Mickey said.

Although she has spent many years emoting in front of the footlights, Mickey turned her talents towards directing a few years ago, finding that part of the field "much more challenging."

Gerry, the musical member of the family, plays the piano, now acts as Mickey's producer and just sort of goes along with most things she wants to do.

He has made several appearances on stage in connection with productions Mickey has been involved in.

Mickey's reputation in the Lake County community theater world has grown in leaps and bounds the last few years having directed two award winners at PM&L in Antioch, "Never Too Late," and "The Man Who Came To Dinner."

She's hoping another play she directed earlier this year at PM&L, "Angel Street," also cops a few prizes at that group's annual awards dinner.

"The Same Time Next Year," currently running at the Grand Hotel gives way to Mickey's next directorial effort, the "Odd Couple," which takes to the hotel's stage on July 31.

Gerry's got the featured part of Murry the Cop in this one.

Mickey is also slated to direct one of the plays on the agenda for Andre's Dinner Theater in the fall and next summer she will spearhead a production of the English farce,

ROCK TRACKS

By Rob Ferrus

"Priest...Live!", the new double LP and long-form video by Judas Priest, captures the band's electricity from their worldwide "Fueled For Life" tour. The 1986 escapade took them through the U.S., Europe and Japan, with most of the material for the video coming from the Houston and Dallas dates.

"You've Got Another Thing Comin'" is the first single. An edited version of the "Priest...Live!" video, shot by Wayne Isham and Curtis Marvis, will be shown at clubs as well as copper CDs, posters and t-shirts to be given away. Lead singer Rob Halford and guitarists KK Downing and Glenn Tipton will also be making live appearances at some of the venues.

"Priest...Live!" is the band's second live album and was mixed at Criteria Studios in Miami with the incomparable Tom Allom at the controls. As far as studio work is concerned, Judas Priest are currently in Malaya, Spain, writing new material for a December/January release on Columbia Records.

George Michael, one half of the late duo "Wham!", currently owns the fastest-rising single on the charts, regardless of the substantial media resistance the song and the video have received. BBC Radio has banned "I Want Your Sex" until 9 p.m. when children's eyes and ears apparently cease to function. In America, MTV has refused to air the video in its original form, and in Salt Lake City, radio station KCPX has refused the song altogether for containing the line, "Don't need no Bible, just look in my eyes." Chalk up one for censorship. George Michael is now appearing at your local discount rack.

Contests For Everyone As State Fair Nears

There's no time like the present to begin preparing for the many contests and competitions at the 1987 Wisconsin State Fair. Whether one is a skilled athlete, a weekend chef, or simply someone with a funny hat or a lot of freckles, they could win one of the fun-filled contests at the Fair, Aug. 6-16.

On Thursday, Aug. 6, the search is on for the Cutest Farm Boy and Farm Girl. This contest, sponsored by the Dairy Farmers of Wisconsin, is open to all children 12 and under, and will begin at 1 p.m. in the Activity Dome (registration is at 12:30 p.m. in the Activity Dome). Children can dress up in any type of "farm" outfit they desire and props are allowed and encouraged.

Friday, Aug. 7, Security Savings Senior Day, has three contests scheduled for those age 60 and over. The first is the "High Steppers" dance competition at the International Amphitheatre. Registration starts at 9 a.m. in the Amphitheatre and the actual contest begins at 9:30 a.m.

Don your helmets, derbies, and bonnets at 1:30 p.m. for the "Hilarious Headwear" competition. Both men and women will compete in three different categories: "Authentic Oldies," "Handmade Hysterical," and purchased "Modern Madcaps." On-site registration begins at 1 p.m.

The final Senior Day contest will be the new "Putt It Straight" golf competition in Central Mall. This contest will run from 2 to 3:30 p.m. and pre-registration is not required.

Pull out running shoes Saturday, Aug. 8, for the State Fair Stampede, sponsored by the Dairy Farmers of Wis. and Archway Cookies. One can enter either the two or five mile runs, with all participants receiving a free Stampede gym bag. Preregistration is suggested.

Another traditional favorite being held Aug. 8, is the Old Style/Old Style Light Keg Put, presented by WLUM. In this contest men and women compete for prizes by throwing empty beer barrels. The Keg Put begins at 11 a.m. and pre-registration is not required.

The popular Wisconsin Public Radio Fiddlers Contest also returns on Saturday Aug. 8 in the Activity Dome. Fiddlers of all ages will compete in either the junior class (16 and under) at 1 p.m. or in the open class (no age limit) at 2 p.m. Contestants will play two songs, and cash prizes will be awarded. Registration is $2, payable on the day of the contest.

The Pabst Wristwrestling Contest, Sunday Aug. 9, will be held at 1 p.m. in the Activity Dome, with on-site registration at noon. Contestants will be competing for trophies donated by Pabst.

Tuesday, Aug. 11, Burger King Children's Day, will have numerous children's contests in the Activity Dome. The contests, with prizes by Coca-Cola, include look-alike parent-child, most freckles, cutest dimples, most realistic sound effects, longest braids, funniest face, look alike twins, and the all-new mommy-calling contests. Registration is at 11:30 a.m. and the actual judging will begin at 12:30 p.m.

If barbequing is one's forte, on Thursday, Aug. 13, Roundy's Food Day, the Wisconsin Beef Council is sponsoring its annual Cookout Contest. The contest runs from 8 a.m. to 2 p.m., rain or shine, and is open to amateurs 18 and over.

Awards will be given out in four categories, and the overall winner will receive a trophy and a $100 beef certificate. All contestants receive free admission to the Fair, free parking, and a souvenir apron. Pre-registration by July 30 is required.

For the true athlete, Old Style/Old Style Light is sponsoring two events testing one's physical condition. On Saturday, Aug. 15, they will sponsor the Bench Press and Dead Lifting Contest, and on Sunday the 16th the Physique Contest. Finals for the Physique Contest will be held in the Coliseum at 7:30 p.m. Pre-registration for both of these events is required prior to the contest date.

Long live the King with the State Fair's Salute to Elvis, presented by WEMP, on Sunday, Aug. 16. Fairgoers are invited to lip sync one of 10 pre-selected songs, and costumes and props are encouraged. Pre-registration at the Activity Dome starts at 5 p.m., with competition in two age categories (16 and under; 17 and older) starting at 5:30 p.m.

If pumping iron isn't one's specialty, maybe they could enter the Kodak Click-A-Chick Photo Contest. Any pictures taken at the 1987 Fair and submitted by Sept. 15 are eligible to win. All contestants will receive a Wisconsin State Fair participant ribbon and a Fair souvenir. The overall best photo winner will receive a Kodak VR35 camera outfit. Five other winners will receive a Kodak Summer Fun Kit.

For further information and pre-registration forms for any of these contests, contact the Wisconsin State Fair Special Events Dept., West Allis, Wis., 53214-0990, or call (414) 257-8817.

CLC Schedules Exhibits Of Photographs

The Community Gallery of Art at the College of Lake County will present a photography exhibit called "Nathan Lerner: 50 Years of Photographic Inquiry," from July 14 through Aug. 14.

Hours for the exhibit, held at the Grayslake campus, will be 8 a.m. to 9:30 p.m. Monday through Thursday during July. Call (312) 223-6601 ext. 618 for August hours.

Lerner, who devised the "light box" and is known for his studies of light and darkness, also expresses in his work a deep concern for the humanistic content of the world around him.

Rich with social insights, even his most formal images contain surprising elements of humor, irony and the surreal. Lerner's photographs cannot be categorized into a single format or style, but they encompass the vitality of many approaches, always unified by the underlying passion of his inquiring eye.

The exhibition and catalog were made possible in part by grants from the National Endowment for the Arts and the Illinois Arts Council.

"Tom Jones," for PM&L audiences.

It doesn't take a CPA to figure out that the Mandel's spend a lot of time working on various theatrical projects, some of which earn a little money. Many, though, are chalked up to fun and experience, with the audience's applause the only paycheck.

"When we're in production we spend at least three nights a week in rehearsal and performances take up the weekends," says Mickey. Sometimes they go directly from one play to another as is the case with the upcoming production of "Odd Couple."

MEM Productions is now working on taking "Same Time Next Year," on the road so to speak, performing for organizations and senior citizen's groups in a tri-county area.

What do the Mandel's do for relaxation when they're not emoting, why they comparison shop of course, taking every chance they can to see a play in Chicago, a musical at Woodstock, a comedy at a summer theater, or any show, any where that the smell of greasepaint prevails.

Kids Get To Stay Up All Night

Children who want to stay up all night and see the sun rise can experience the next best thing at The Adler Planetarium's newest Children's Sky Show, "Magic Sky."

"Magic Sky" is a half-hour look at what goes on in the sky during the night. "It really is a lot of fun, even for adults," according to April Whitt, Planetarium assistant astronomer in charge of youth programs. "We hear from Bob from the 'Sesame Street' television show while we sing 'Twinkle, Twinkle, Little Star' and a song about the sun—most people don't realize that stars are far away suns. We also get the chance to meet Mr. Moon and learn about his craters. He's a little crabby, but I like him."

"Magic Sky" will be presented Saturday mornings at 10 a.m. Aug. 1 through Nov. 28. The Adler Planetarium is located at 1300 South Lake Shore Dr.

Smash Cycle For MDA

For the ninth year in a row, a foreign motorcycle will be thrown off the roof of R & B Harley Davidson, 1535

Douglas Ave. in Racine on Sunday, Aug. 2 at noon. It's all in fun and to benefit those with muscular dystrophy.

The public is invited to "smash" the motorcycle with a sledge hammer for a donation to the Muscular Dystrophy Assn. There are also souvenir t-shirts available for a donation to MDA.

Third Lake

The Village Board of Third Lake meets on the first Wednesday of each month.

To Appear At Opera House

Legendary fingerstyle guitarist Leo Kottke will appear in concert at the

Schedule Festival

The Franciscan Friars of Marytown will hold their annual summer festival on Saturday, Aug 8 and Sunday, Aug 9.

Saturday, Aug 8, Las Vegas Night will be featured from 7 pm to midnight with live music, dancing, brats and hot dogs, Polish and Italian sausage, beer and soda.

Sunday, Aug 9, events will begin with an outdoor Mass at 10:30 am. chicken dinners (adults $5 and children under 12, $3) will be served from noon until 6 pm. (Arts and crafts, bake sale, corn roast, vegetable stand, rummage and art sales, auction, dunk tank, games for children and clowns will be some of the activities taking place at the festival.

Marytown is located on Rte 176 (1600 W. Park Ave), four miles west of Rte I-94 expressway, next to St. Mary of the Lake Seminary between Libertyville and Mundelein.

Woodstock Opera House on Saturday, Sept. 19 at 8 p.m.

Kottke, five time winner of Guitar Player Magazine's reader's poll as best folk guitarist, and recipient of numerous other awards, astounded a sold-out opera house audience a year ago with blazing hot licks and dazzling technical ability on six and 12 string and slide guitar.

Kottke's laid back stage presence and his unusual singing, which he compares to the sound of "geese farts on a muggy day," along with flawless virtuoso guitar playing have kept him on the concert road and in recording studios for the past 22 years.

Also appearing will be Pat Donohue, winner of the 1983 National Fingerpicking Championships at the Walnut Valley Festival in Winfield, Kan. Donohue wowed an Opera House crowd in April as the opening act for John Sebastian.

Not content with a series of guitar solos, Donohue's vocals and writing are as flexible and compelling as his champion guitar, and his easygoing sense of humor is engaging.

Tickets for the concert are priced at $13, and are on sale at the Woodstock Opera House ticket office and all Ticketron outlets. For tickets or more information, call (815)338-5300.

IN THIS WEEK

Santiago's character is tougher, more mature

By Wendy Wallace

"It's a very fine line on TV to present a character every week," says Saundra Santiago, who plays non-nonsense Det. Gina Callabrese on NBC's Friday-night series "Miami Vice." "You tend to be one way. I want it so that every time people see me as Gina, something new is happening."

Saundra Santiago

Santiago, 30, was featured in two episodes of the series this season. In "When Irish Eyes are Smiling," Gina met with opposition from her co-workers when she became smitten with an Irish revolutionary. And in the season-ending episode, Santiago played a dual role as Gina and her Cuban mother. "I don't work as much as the guys," she says. "But when I'm called, I do my best. I've worked to make her more mature and tougher."

Santiago, the second of two children, grew up in Miami and New York. "I lived a very sheltered childhood, because my mother was very protective," she recalls. "When I saw 'West Side Story' on Broadway, I thought it was the most incredible thing I had ever seen. To see Latin people on the stage, working and being as professional as it all was, really opened up my eyes."

During her sophomore year at the University of Miami, she auditioned on a whim for a college production of "West Side Story." Though she didn't win the part, the experience sparked a flame.

"There's nothing like performing on a live stage," she says. "Ultimately, as an artist it gives you everything you want. It supplies all the artistic desires. But you have to sacrifice your life to the theater. You're never secure because the jobs come and go."

"In film and TV, you get a wider audience. More producers, more TV people see you. And you work more consistently. My ultimate goal is to be a film actress."

For now, Santiago enjoys working in series television—especially on a hit like "Miami Vice."

"The best part about being on a successful series? That's a hard question," she says. "There's the exposure, the money, the security, long-range security and the connections. You meet so many people involved in the business."

"I guess it's all positive. I feel very secure and that feels good to be a secure, working actor. I'm working at my craft, and I know I get a lot of respect for it. I guess the security, that feels very good."

MOVIE NOSTALGIA

By Robert J. Levy

Long before Eddie Murphy invaded the tony enclaves of Beverly Hills, another black movie cop ventured far from home to solve a crime: Sidney Poitier's Virgil Tibbs, in Norman Jewison's 1967 film "In the Heat of the Night." Though somewhat simplistic in its study of racism, the film breathes life as a taut, grimy murder mystery, and boasts sterling performances by Poitier and Rod Steiger.

Tibbs is a smooth, educated, somewhat prissy northern city detective who stumbles onto a sleepy town seething with racism only to find himself embroiled in an investigation of the murder of a prominent white citizen. He also becomes involved in an alternately dramatic and comic love-hate relationship with the chief of police - a good ol' boy played with superb, edgy intensity by Steiger.

As the townsfolk increasingly menace this interloper, Steiger's prejudices give way to admiration for Tibbs' technical expertise and pluck. And Tibbs discovers that even a pudgy old cop like Steiger has some lessons to teach.

The plot becomes too neat and moralistic by the time the murder is solved, but the dialogue crackles, Quincy Jones' funky score (with the title track sung by Ray Charles) bops along, and even the parade of redneck stereotypes is fun to watch.

Question: Which actor received an Academy Award for his performance?

Answer: Steiger, who won the Oscar as Best Actor.

What was the title of the TV series that starred David Janssen as a man on the run? Why was he running? - S.K., St. Petersburg, Fla.

David Janssen

This series was "The Fugitive," a drama that aired from 1963 to 1967 on ABC. Janssen played Dr. Richard Kimble, who had been wrongfully convicted of his wife's murder and sentenced to death. When the train bringing him to prison derailed, Kimble escaped and began his search for the real killer. Unlike most series, which end their runs without wrapping up the story, "The Fugitive" was resolved in its last two episodes. The real murderer, a one-armed man, was identified and killed, and Kimble was exonerated.

CABLEVIEW

Look for old series, new specials on cable this fall

By Marianne Meyer

As summer lingers, the cable networks are announcing new series and special events to compete with the broadcast networks' new-season plans. Here's a preview of what's to come on cable this fall.

Rick Nelson

HBO: Returning series include "Not Necessarily the News," which will expand to an hour, and "1st and Ten," which will follow the Bulls to the Super Bowl. New episodes of the adult-oriented football series will premiere in August.

CINEMAX: The always exciting "Sessions" series has two new specials on the way. "A Blues Session" features Eric Clapton, Phil Collins, B.B. King, Stevie Ray Vaughan and others. "Chet Atkins - Certified Guitar Player" teams the country-western star with Mark Knopfler, Emmylou Harris and the Everly Brothers, among others.

THE DISNEY CHANnel: One fall highlight is "Missing Adventures of Ozzie and Harriet," which presents 100 episodes of the series that haven't been seen since they aired in the '50s. The episodes have been selected by David Nelson, brother of the late Rick Nelson. He has also produced "Rick Nelson: A Brother Remembers," a portrait of the television, movie and pop-music star, for a fall premiere.

MTV: On Sept. 11, the network will air the 1987 Video Music Awards. Crowded House, Run-DMC, Bon Jovi, Bryan Adams and Cyndi Lauper are set to perform during the fourth annual awards program, which will air live from the Universal Amphitheatre in Los Angeles.

SHOWTIME: "It's Garry Shandling's Show" will be back for more inspired lunacy this fall. And Dave Einstein, the master of stunts from the "Bizarre" series, will return in a new spinoff, "Super Dave."

ARTS & ENTERTAINMENT NETWORK: "The Divided Union," an all-new chronicle of the Civil War, will feature archival photos, re-enactments of key battles and commentary from historians. The five-part series is scheduled to air in November.

LIFETIME: "Way Off Broadway Starring Joy Behar," an hourlong daily blend of comedy, music and conversation, is set to debut in September.

County Political Machine Is Inefficient--And Dull

by JOHN STEINKE

Between the hog-calling contests at the Lake County Fair, Sheriff Robert H. "Mickey" Babcox spends most of his leisure time reading monographs on Winston Churchill. "Mick" understands that a statesmen is a dead politician. And he ain't dead.

Steinke On Politics

Babcox is the political boss of Lake County. He will have the starring role in "The Lake County Line." "The Man" runs the local Republican party machine. County chairman Robert P. Neal walks seven paces behind the Sheriff and kisses his badge on every issue. Unconfirmed rumors have been circulated that our Lake County judges are in the sheriff's hip pocket. Tell me it ain't true, Al Wysocki.

Last May Babcox won a major victory when Dist. 4 Rep. Jim Fields was elected Lake County Board chairman in a 25-hour, 139-ballot marathon. Fields is Babcox's political puppet. His county board district includes Antioch, Avon, Grant and Lake Villa Twps. in western Lake County. "Mickey" is the de facto boss of Grant Twp.

Fields cannot win reelection without support from the Grant Twp. political machine.

Obviously, Jim Fields will take his marching orders from Sheriff Babcox. A rubber stamp would exhibit more independence than Chairman Fields.

In the 1986 election, Boss Hogg supported "Mickey Mae" Litwiler's candidacy for county clerk over Democratic incumbent Linda Hess. Thanks to God, Oral Roberts and independent Republicans, Hess was reelected over Mickey's surrogate. Otherwise, Sheriff Richard J. Babcox would have controled the county's election machinery. In my opinion, our ballots would have been weighted rather than counted in elections.

One-party rule breeds inefficiency, corruption and insensitivity to the electorate.

And let's not kid ourselves. Crook County has a corrupt Democratic machine. In Lake County, the late Mayor Richard J. Daley is alive and well. He lives in Grayslake under the pseudonym of Robert H. "Mickey" Babcox. The Lake County GOP organization is just as venal as the Chicago Democratic machine.

We must be dependent on independent Republicans to protect the county from the tentacles of machine politics. Why? It's because the Lake County Democratic party is a collection of zeroes except for Linda Hess and Mary Graceless Stern. The Democratic County Chairman is Jay K. Ukena. He is known as the Chernobyl of Lake County politics. Under his stewardship, the local Democratic Party remsembles the 1975 Vietnamese Army. It fights the political wars with track shoes and white flags.

No wonder Lake County politics has become as exciting as watching haircuts on Saturday morning.

Clerk's Office Conducts Supermarket Voter Drive

Merchants throughout Lake County are working with the Lake County Clerk's office in promoting voter registration.

The clerk's office will be setting up tables in various grocery stores throughout the summer in an effort to register new voters and re-register those needing the new blue voter identification card.

The new cards were implemented in January, 1986, as a result of a new state-required voter registration form.

Lake County Clerk Linda Hess stressed that re-registering is entirely voluntary. Voting status will not be affected if a registered voter does not re-register.

Additionally, the supermarket registration stations will accept changes of address for voters who have moved and name changes for those who have married and changed their name.

Hess also said that 17-year-olds who will reach their 18th birthday by Nov. 3 can register at these locations. Two forms of identification, including one with a current address, are required.

"We are very pleased with the response we've had from the grocery store chains that are allowing us to set up in their stores," Hess said. "This is an easy and convenient way for voters to get registered and for stores to provide good community relations."

Tables will be set up at most Jewel and Eagle stores, as well as Welton's County Market, Cub Foods and Sunset Food Marts.

1987 Fair To Expand ATV-Motocross Events

Last year's debut of motocross racing of ATVs and motorcycles at the Lake County Fair was so popular that this year races have been scheduled for two evenings.

"The races, which were held on Thursday evening, and which played to a full grandstand audience, helped bring in record Thursday attendance at last year's fair," said Walter Krumrey, secretary of the Lake County Fair Assn.

Races are scheduled for Wednesday, July 29, and Thursday, July 30 at 7 p.m. Registration forms may be obtained from Bill Sparks at Up-Front Promotions, P.O.

Box 1142, Libertyville, Ill. 60048 or by calling (312) 680-7744.

The contest is divided into six classes: 250 ATV, 250 Quad, Open Quad, 125 Motorcycle and Open Motorcycle. All competitors will be racing for trophies and cash prizes. Pre-entry deadline is July 24.

Fair Will Feature Two Derbies

Lake County Fair officials are expecting 200 local entries in the popular demolition derby.

"Each year, we have Lake County residents and businesses who spend weeks preparing their cars to compete. It's difficult to say who has the most fun at the demolition derby, the competitors or the audience," said Walter Krumrey, fair association secretary.

The Fair offers two demolition derbies for adventure-seeking individuals; one at 6 p.m. on Thursday, July 29 and another on Sunday, Aug. 2. Qualifying heats will start on Sunday at 10 a.m. for the Sunday competition.

The competition is open to any licensed driver aged 18 and over. The number of cars is limited. The feature winner will receive $300 and a trophy.

Derby rules and entry blanks are available at Behning's Auto Parts in Antioch and Grayslake. In addition, rules and entry blanks will be available through the fair office at the fairgrounds.

Admission to the fairgrounds is $3 per day. Children twelve and under are admitted free. Senior citizens are admitted to the fair for $1.50 Wednesday through Friday. A season pass is available for $7.50 per person. Seating for some events is limited.

The fairgrounds are located at Rtes. 120 and 45, Grayslake. Visitors should enter from Center St. or Rte. 120. The Rte. 45 gate is for exhibitors only.

Any resident of the county may enter. Acts are limited to five minutes or less; entrants may participate in only one act.

The talent contest, sponsored by Home Federal Savings & Loan of Lake County and Grayslake National Bank, is divided into three age categories: The junior division, open to contestants 14 years of age or under on Nov. 30, 1987; senior division, for those 15 to under 21 years of age as of Nov. 30; and the adult division, for contestants 21 or over on Nov. 30.

A preliminary contest will be held Sunday, July 26 at the Fairgrounds in Grayslake. Top winners in each division will compete in the finals; each division will compete on a different evening on the Main Stage during the fair.

Junior division will perform at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, July 30; senior division, 7:30 p.m. on Friday, July 31; and adult division, 7:30 p.m. on Saturday, Aug. 1.

Acts will be judged on the basis of ability, audience contact, costume and appearance, entertainment value and originality. Audition applications and rules may be obtained by calling John Lynn at (312) 566-6594, or Walter Krumrey at the fair office, (312) 223-2204.

Gardeners Prepare For Agricultural Contests

One of the largest agricultural competitions in Illinois will be at the Lake County Fair. Whether it's flowers or vegetables, each year more gardeners are growing their products for competition.

Gardeners may compete in several categories: Agricultural Products (including vegetables), Horticulture (fruits), Floriculture (floral arranging, potted plants, cut flowers), and Garden Club Displays. A new competition, the Home and Garden Photo Contest, was added to the 1987 fair after a suggestion by a 1986 fairgoer. The contest was patterned after the "Victory Garden" contest on the Public Broadcasting System (PBS).

The competition offers recognition, in the form of ribbons and cash prizes; in addition, the entries remain on display to be enjoyed and admired by fair visitors.

Entry deadlines vary by show. Information about the competition may be obtained by calling the Fair Assn. at (312) 223-2204.

Entrants must be members of the Lake County Fair Assn. or must purchase $7.50 exhibitor's tickets to the fair.

300 Baton Twirlers To Vie At Fair

More than 300 baton twirlers are expected to compete in a "twirl toward triumph" in the Baton Contest Sunday, Aug. 23, at the 135th Illinois State Fair.

This year's competition has been divided into five classes, including solo baton twirling, basic strut, dance-twirl team, half-time show routine and parade corps competition. The contest will begin at 9 a.m. in the Coca-Cola Arena.

Entries for the solo baton contest must be postmarked by July 19. Basic strut, half-time show routine and parade corps competition entries are due July 17. Entries are limited to Illinois residents only.

Contestants will compete on a flat asphalt surface. Seating will be available for family and friends. The Illinois State Fair runs Aug. 13-23. For more information and entry forms, contact Special Events, Illinois State Fair, P.O. Box 576, Springfield, IL 62705, or phone (217) 785-3482.

Governor Should Drop Lectures On Courage

by CHARLES JOHNSTON
Managing Editor
STATE REP. BOB Churchill (R-Lake Villa) is either the shrewdest or the luckiest politician in town. He carried Gov. Jim Thompson's bags on the tax increase that failed. Now, he is one of the few people in the legislature who has a solid IOU he can call in. Certainly, Churchill has little, if anything to worry about come election time. After State Sen. Adeline Geokaris (R-Zion) and State Rep. John Matijevich (D-North Chicago), he has the safest seat in the county.

In going to bat for Thompson's plan, Churchill certainly showed more courage than the governor did. In Thompson's State of the State address, he asked if "we in Illinois have the intellectual, moral and political courage to make the right choices for ourselves and our children?"

He was asking, of course, if we would support a tax increase. Thompson's self-image as a profile in courage is more than a little flawed. Facing a weak opponent last fall, he couldn't seem to find the courage to tell us the state needed a major tax increase until safely after the election.

After two consecutive elections in which the governor maintained the day before the first Tuesday in November that everything was fine, only to backtrack afterwards, our legislators must be excused if they hoot when Big Jim gives them a lecture on political and moral courage. Most of them will face a tougher opponent than Adlai Stevenson.

THE DECISION BY Judge Alan Cargerman to declare Round Lake Park's annexation of Saddlebrook Farms can be of little comfort to opponents of the project.

Cargerman made clear that the only reason he was voiding it was because of the adults-only provision in the proposed manufactured home park. The judge went so far as to bluntly assert that the "plaintiffs' ultimate objection to the growth of large mobile home housing tracts within their rural community cannot succeed given adequate treatment of their socioeconomic and environmental impact."

I wish that leaders in this county would figure out that extreme positions on either side create problems for all. Mike Graham, Libertyville Twp. Supervisor and Lake County Board Member, is absolutely right when he says that almost all residential development costs a community more than it brings in. Thus, taxpayers must bear the load of increased expenses to out a formula by which residential developers absolutely must pay their own way, rather than passing on the cost to local taxpayers? And can't we agree that when a bill to help bring Lake Michigan water out to west Lake County is scuttled for political reasons, that all are hurt?

CLC Fall Sign-Up To Open July 20

In-person registration for the College of Lake County's fall classes for district residents begins Monday, July 20, with telephone registration for admitted students starting July 27. Students who live outside the CLC district may register by phone or in person beginning July 27.

Classes will begin on August 24.

Both telephone and in-person registration will be accepted from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. and from 4 p.m. to 8 p.m. Monday through Thursday through Aug. 20 at the main campus, 19351 W. Washington in Grayslake, and Lakeshore campus, 111

N. Genesee St. in Waukegan. The telephone registration number is (312) 223-1111.

CLC's Southlake Educational Center, 1860 First St., in Highland Park, will take in-person registration only from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m.

The College of Lake County's 1987 Fall Class Schedule has been mailed to all residents and businesses in the district. An application for admission is contained in the schedule. If you have not received a copy or would like more information, call CLC's Office of Admissions and Records at (312) 223-8800.

Fitness For Moms-To-Be

Northern Illinois Medical Center in McHenry has a new exercise program for expectant mothers, Moms on the Move (MOM). The four-week sessions meet Tuesdays and Thursdays from 7 to 8 p.m. Exercises, which include low-impact aerobics, last approximately 45 minutes, followed by a question-and-answer session and group discussion. Coordinator is physical therapist Dana Lindsey. Class fee is $40, although participants may sign up for additional sessions for only $25. A physician's consent is necessary for participation. To register, call (815) 344-5000, ext. 3210.

support residential development.

Commercial development, on the other hand, is almost always profitable when properly planned. Business development is crucial to providing jobs and reducing the individual tax burden that homeowners must bear.

Can't we agree that, yes, all must sit down and work

As long as officials in west Lake County believe that open-space advocates will continue to do their best to impede legitimate commercial development, they will not even listen to such advocates.

It is possible to accomplish these goals, but someone is going to have to preserve us from the ideologues.

THIS WEEK'S HOROSCOPE

BY SALOME

Weekly Tip: Contact long-lost friends.

Aries (Mar. 21-Apr. 19) Get in touch with unique people and tap them for new ideas. Put some variety into your routine; you have a tendency to do the same things all the time.

Taurus (Apr. 20-May 20) Sweep your mate of his/her feet for a romantic rendezvous. Make sure whatever you plan is to the liking of both of you. Splurge on a shopping spree.

Gemini (May 21-June 20) Your enthusiasm for that new endeavor of yours is going to pay off — so persevere. People will be watching the way you handle yourself now.

Cancer (June 21-Jul. 20) Why not break up your summer with a quick jaunt to your favorite spot? If your finances give you the go-ahead, go for it! Take your favorite people.

Leo (Jul. 21-Aug. 22) Now isn't the best time to impose on others, so stay home and be with your buddies. That interesting newcomer would provide some excellent company.

Virgo (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Plan how you can best handle a disturbed associate; this one will return the favor some day. Get busy fine-tuning your special talents for a rainy day.

Libra (Sept. 23-Oct. 22) Things may seem a little bizarre now, but this will clear up if you lay low. Tie up those loose ends you have hanging over your head. Take time for relaxation.

Scorpio (Oct. 23-Nov. 21) Revisions for your recreational plans may be necessary, so roll with the punches. If your efforts fail at the office, shelve them for a better time.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22-Dec. 21) Instead of arguing about bills and other practical matters, study them conscientiously. Look into new ways of improving these daily routines.

Capricorn (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Be sure you are clear and concise when speaking. You are feeling especially cheerful now, so why not throw a bash with some extravagant touches?

Aquarius (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) If someone is trying to provoke you into an argument, just keep your cool. Your best bet is to call your friends and plan for future amusements.

Pisces (Feb. 19-Mar. 20) Your new project is rolling along nicely, but be on the lookout for some sort of kink. Curb your restless tendencies, and use care behind the wheel.

If you were born today, you most likely have an unconventional nature that makes you stand out from the crowd. This can certainly be a strong asset if handled properly. Some people may feel threatened by your overbearing presence, so be sure to let others know your true self. © 1987, McNaught Synd.
